SKYSCRAPER RESERVOIR

CROP INSURANCE

Our customers in Colorado and neighboring states well know the dominant role irrigation plays in these semi-arid regions. Here in Boulder our rainfall varies from eleven to fifteen inches a year—only as much as some states receive in a month.

Fortunately, the mountains at our back door receive heavy winter snows that drift deeply. Melting snowbanks feed the streams during the warm summer months. (Boulder's domestic water supply comes from a living glacier owned by the city.)

By diverting water from the streams through canals and pipelines it is possible to irrigate the naturally fertile land and harvest bumper crops. The expense involved is more than compensated for by being able to apply just the amount of water needed at the right time. This is especially true with our own specialty crops.

Our regular irrigation sources are adequate most years, but occasionally sparse winter snowfall is a cause for concern. To correct this source of worry, I started some years ago to build a storage reservoir where water accumulated during a wet season could be held until needed in a dry year.

Shown above is my dam creating Skyscraper reservoir. Located less than a mile from the Continental Divide at an elevation of 11,105 feet above sea level and three miles distant from road's end, my experiences building it were varied but too numerous to chronicle here.

Supplies and machinery were first packed in on horses. Later an army-type Dodge four wheel drive truck took over. In some spots it was necessary to use a winch so that the truck literally pulled itself up the hills—hills so steep that all four wheels would spin without this aid. Work was carried on during the short summer seasons, with snowstorms a not infrequent occurrence.

Despite difficulties, the project has been completed and with this additional water reserve—crop insurance in liquid form—we are prepared even better to provide dependable high quality bulbs and seeds year after year.

To Make Head Lettuce Head

Lettuce will seldom head in hot weather, unless grown in shade. It is a cool weather plant, doing best very early in spring, or late in fall, as head lettuce.

Sowing head lettuce seed late in fall, just before ground freezes, is one good way to get an early start the next spring. Very early spring sowing—March or early April—is good.

Bear in mind that the ground should be good and rich, and that the plants should be thinned or transplanted to 6 to 10 inches apart. Then they should be hoed often, the oftener the better. You can't expect to pluck large solid heads of lettuce from a bed in which the plants are thick.

GREAT LAKES LETTUCE. Crisp Solid Heads, Stands Heat

ALL-AMERICAN BRONZE MEDAL WINNER. A new tight-heading, sure-to-head variety for home and market.

BRED BY KEITH C. BARRONS in cooperation with the United States Government. Introduced from the Michigan Experiment Station.

PRODUCES FINE LARGE HEADS, well rounded, very solid. Especially resistant to tipburn. Stands the longest of any lettuce without going to seed. Can be used as leaf lettuce at all stages of growth. The attractive crimped leaves are tender and delicious.

Fills a long felt want for both back yard gardeners and commercial growers. The most certain to head of all large luscious varieties, often under most adverse condition, and in hot weather. Heads best of course in cooler months. Resistant to tipburn.

The thick large leaves fold well over the head. Unlike most kinds, Great Lakes is very slow to run to seed.

"IRRITATING THE GARDEN"

One summer evening a caller at a Boulder home asked the little girl who came to the door: "Is your father home?" "Yes," replied the little miss, "he's in the back yard irritating the garden." Of course, the caller found this man sprinkling the garden with the hose. But the little girl may not have been so far off after all, in using the word irritating for irrigating.

It is a fact that many gardeners do just about that—squirt just a little water on the garden and lawn which does little more than irritate the growing plants. Tiny plants do need just a little light sprinkling at a time and often. But when plants are larger they want a good thorough soaking once in a while, then want to be left alone a few days, maybe a week.

Is far better to give a good watering, then cultivate as soon as ground is dry enough, than to just keep irritating the garden with daily light sprinkling, which brings the feeding roots to the surface instead of keeping them at work lower down.

Iridescent Iris: July to November

MARGIE LONG IN ONE OF OUR IRIS FIELDS

We are among the largest growers of fine Iris in the world. Every year we add new varieties to our already wonderful list of breath-taking beauties.

Our 1951 list will contain the best of the kinds in the 1950 list, plus many new ones you have been waiting for.

Also, many prices will be reduced so much that you need not wait longer to have them in your own gardens. This applies especially to the newer kinds that are always high for a few years or more.

Summer and fall is the ideal time for dividing the clumps and setting out the new "toes." We start digging and shipping right after we finish celebrating our country's birthday on the Fourth of July. From then until November we send out these glorious new Iris to all parts of the United States.

Our 1951 Iris catalogue, with many varieties pictured in natural color, will be mailed around the first of May. If you have ordered iris, seeds or any other merchandise from us within the last two years you will be sent a copy automatically. If in doubt, drop us a card and we will reserve a catalogue for you.

Ideal Hand Weeder

Glad Bulb Sizes

No. 1 bulbs measure 1½ inches in diameter or larger. No. 2 from 1¼ to 1½ inches and No. 3 from one inch to 1¼.

Large size bulbs will include some of both No. 1 and No. 2. Will not have all No. 1 nor all No. 2—some of each.

Medium size bulbs will not have all No. 3, but will include some No. 4 which range from ¾ths of an inch to one inch.

If you order, for example, ten large size bulbs of a variety, we normally would put in both No. 1 and No. 2 size bulbs. If we should be sold out of No. 1 size, we will use No. 2 size and would add extra count to insure your receiving full value. We will do our best to see that you are satisfied.

If You Pay P. P. or Express

All Glad bulbs in this catalogue are priced PREPAID, except lots listed F.O.B.

If order part from F.O.B. list and part from prepaid lists, you will find it much to your advantage to do as many others have done. Just say, "Send all at my expense and add more Glads to COVER SENDING COSTS ON PREPAID ITEMS."

Second Choice, Please

As the season goes on, some kinds will be sold out. Will help us if you list a second choice in case we cannot supply all items on your order. Thanks.

Business Terms

All goods are priced prepaid unless otherwise noted.

We guarantee safe delivery. Please check shipment on arrival to see if all items ordered are present and in good condition. Notify us promptly if everything not satisfactory. We want you to be pleased, so don't be backwards or bashful about letting us know if we have failed to achieve our goal.

In order to keep overhead expenses down and give you the most value for your dollar we must insist on cash with order, since we have no credit department.

Money order, postal note, personal check or bank draft best way to remit. Please do not send stamps or coins unless for very small amounts. Always a chance they will get lost in the mails. And remember to seal the envelope, too.

We discourage C. O. D. shipments. Recent postal rate increases raise the cost to you. No C. O. D. shipments without $\frac{1}{4}$ cash in advance.

Goods priced prepaid will be sent by parcel post or express, our option. But if one service is much better for your convenience than the other, please let us know and we will try to ship best for you. All small shipments of less than eight or ten pounds will go parcel post.

We endeavor to supply you with highest quality seeds and bulbs. However, since they are grown beyond our control, we necessarily must limit our liability to the purchase price of the seeds or bulbs.

Lawn Grass Seed

This year, as usual, we have for sale the very finest True Kentucky Blue Grass and White Dutch Clover available. We have always handled only the highest grade lawn seed. Seems silly to go to all the expense of preparing a lawn for seeding, then use light weight, low germinating seed that often carries noxious weed seeds.

It will save you money to prepare your seed bed thoroughly before sowing this fine seed.

New lawns should be thoroughly worked, leveled and allowed to settle.

The more care before sowing the seed the better the results. Seed will wash to the low spots and make your lawn spotted.

Sow part the seed one way and then some more crosswise, so as to avoid streaks. Rake well before and after sowing. Water gently so often that soil never dries out until lawn is green.

White Dutch Clover is the favorite pal or Ky. Blue. The clover starts quickly and holds the fort until the slower germinating Ky. Blue gets going.

One Pound Clover to 5 pounds Ky. Blue is plenty. Even half as much is often used with fine results.

Sow one pound Clover or Ky. Blue, or these mixed, to 300 square feet. Many sow thicker to get a lawn quickly.
